

Promotional Products That Have Impact!

Check Out These Great Ideas:

Side-Click Mini Pen With Lanyard

The manager of a small airport wanted a reliable pen for her workers. She really like the design of the Side-Click Mini Pen — the lanyard made it extremely handy for workers on the tarmac and in the hangers to write quickly without searching for a pen.

Airplane Shaped USB Flash Drive

A small airline wanted a unique Christmas promotion for their company. They decided on giving all passengers that flew during the holiday an airplane shaped USB Flash Drive with their company logo on it. A very practical gift, that not only reminded them of the airline that cared for them, but was much more useful then receiving a mug.

Airplane Shaped Stress Reliever

The upcoming Airshow was going to be a huge event and one of the participants wanted a product that appealed to adults and kids alike. This fun airplane shaped stress reliever was a huge hit.

Lapel Pins

One of the exhibitors at an aviation trade show wanted to have give-a-ways to those who took the time to stop by their booth. This lapel pin was just the right product; inexpensive enough to give away hundreds of them, but relative enough to be a reminder of the company that gave it to them.
